

SHACKELFORD FOR GOVERNOR IN 1923

Cincinnati Enquirer Suggests Him and 'Tis Certain Friends Will Urge His Availability

Local friends of Judge W. R. Shackelford, who have realized some time that he stands in a commanding position in the next Democratic governor's race, were pleased to note that he is mentioned as one of the three most spoken of candidates in the Kentucky political column in the Cincinnati Enquirer. Congressman Alben Barkley, of Paducah, and former Attorney General James Garnett are two others mentioned.

It seems to be agreed that the next Democratic state ticket will be nominated in a convention. The cost of a statewide primary has proven almost prohibitive and very frequently it has resulted in the nomination of weak candidates. So an old-fashioned state convention seems to be certain for the next state nomination to endeavor to pick the strongest possible ticket.

Madison county democrats are confident that, as in years past when the party sought a champion to redeem the state from Republican misrule, it will turn to old Madison. And they are saying that they will have one fitted in every way to measure up to the requirement in the person of Judge Shackelford. Back in 1911, after four years of Augustus E. Willson and his republican crew at Frankfort, it was to Madison that a united democracy turned. James B. McCreary led his party to victory then and in 1923 another Madison county man can do it again, the friends of Judge Shackelford are saying.

Unlike many others who might be available for the nomination, Judge Shackelford has never been mixed up in factional politics in the state. He has an old-fashioned idea that the collar of any man or machine wouldn't be comfortable about his neck. As a rabble rousing stump speaker he has few equals and no superiors in the state. Many other qualifications make him the ideal Moses to lead the Kentucky democracy out of the wilderness, his friends are saying, and they intend that the voters of their party shall be fully acquainted with them before the time for picking the next state leader rolls around.

But here's what the Cincinnati Enquirer said Sunday: It is noteworthy that Democratic possibilities for Governor already are being discussed, notwithstanding the fact that the election is two years hence. The recent visit to Kentucky of Congressman Alben W. Barkley, of the First District, has revived gossip that he will be asked to accept when the time comes, although he never has intimated that he is considering the honor.

Another democrat mentioned this week is James Garnett, former Attorney General of the state. He received his boost from an Adair county newspaper, printed where General Garnett was born and where he was elected to office.

A third name put forward is that of Judge W. R. Shackelford, of Richmond, whose position, his friends state, has been strengthened by the fact that the nomination was conceded to him in the Twenty-Fifth Judicial district without opposition this year. It is apparent that a boom for Judge Shackelford is being planned.

Rains In West Kentucky

(By Associated Press)
Madisonville, Ky., July 26—A period of intense activity in following what farmers call a "million dollar rain," that recently saved the crops that were drying up in the field following a prolonged dry spell. Reports from different neighborhoods are to the effect that prospects now are encouraging for good crops, and the outlook for the farmers much better.

Like many other parts of the state, for weeks this section wilted under a blazing sun until indications were that the crops all would be burned up. The rain, however, changed conditions and the farmers have gone back to work to save their produce.

Approximately 184,000 pounds of tobacco were pledged to the proposed Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association at a precinct meeting at Newby Friday night attended by Madison county growers, and addressed by James C. Stone, vice chairman of the committee.

Stone and J. N. Kehoe, Madisonville, members of the organization committee, will give talks explaining the plan in detail at six meetings this week. The dates, places and speakers of these meetings have been announced as follows:

Tuesday at 1:30 p. m.—At the court house in Taylorsville, Jas. C. Stone.

Wednesday at 2 p. m.—Brooksville, J. N. Kehoe.

Thursday, 2 p. m.—Court house in Mt. Olivet, J. N. Kehoe.

Messrs. Stone and Kehoe will address meetings Friday and Saturday in Shelby and Henry counties, the time and places of the meetings to be decided upon and announced later.

MORE DETAILS OF STONEY CREEK FLOOD

The Stoney Run tide will long be remembered. It came with a crash over the concrete bridge bringing the iron bridge from above, also logs, stumps, and everything movable through Dave Oldham's yard. It burst open the doors, flooded the rooms, washed out buckets and boxes; washed out large clothes basket full of clothes. They were caught in the back fence. The family escaped by the hardest. It washed away a hen house with about 50 hens and large frying size chickens; also setting hens. It washed away a buggy, fences, trees and everything in the way.

The creek soon was up to the back door and coming down the pike. The creek went through Herman Jackson's corn field, through Liza Rowe's field almost destroying the whole piece of corn. It tore away fences, posts and all; destroyed a lot of sugar cane and corn for Mr. Dickson and on through Mrs. Witt's corn and tobacco. East Fork was a terror. It washed away a barn for George Mavely, colored.

Water was all over Mrs. Davis' front yard and washed away fences and damaged land to some extent. Roads were torn up till almost impossible to travel. It will take some time to clean up yards and get back the fences. People had better cut all timber and undergrowth along the creeks and give water a clear sweep. The creek beds are filled up with bushes. Something should be done to save the land.

Herman Regains Bantam Crown

New York, July 26—Pete Herman, of New Orleans, regained the world's bantamweight championship at Ebbetts Field last night by receiving the judges' decision over Joe Lynch, of New York after a hard 15-round bout. Herman, staging a sensational come-back, had the better of 13 rounds, one was even and the other went to Lynch. The New Orleans boy forced the fighting from the opening bell.

NORMAL ATTENDANCE BREAKS ALL RECORDS

And Seems Limited Only By Accommodations, Reports To Regents' Meeting Show

The Board of Regents of the Eastern Kentucky State Normal at their meeting in Lexington Saturday appointed H. L. Donovan dean to succeed E. C. McDougle. He will assume his duties at the opening of the school in September. Donovan is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and Columbia University. At the last school term he was assistant to Prof. O. L. Reid, of Louisville, and prior to that time was connected with the schools in Ashland.

Charles Lewis, of Berea College, was placed at the head of the extension department and rural education, which is a new branch.

The quarterly session of the Regents was held at the Lafayette Hotel in Lexington. State Superintendent George Colvin, as ex-officio chairman, presided, with all the regents present: C. F. Weaver, J. W. Cammack, J. A. Sullivan, and H. M. Brock; also present were T. J. Coates, president, Paul Burnam, treasurer, F. C. Gentry, business manager, and J. H. Ramsey, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

Much important business was transacted. The first unit of "A. R. Burnam Hall" was reported completed and partially occupied.

The yearly report showed that the present is the most successful year of the school thus far, and that the two new dormitories are finished free of debt leaving a comfortable surplus on hand after their equipment; also that the attendance this year has been its greatest. It also appears that notwithstanding the construction and completion of two new dormitories this year, the demand for rooms on the local community will be as great as before because of the increased attendance so strongly indicated. As always heretofore in the past the chief need of the school still is more dormitory space for pupils. The attendance seems to be limited only by inability to get comfortable rooms for pupils who desire to attend Eastern Normal here.

A committee was appointed to secure a successor to Prof. Myers and Dr. Bruner for the ensuing school year to begin September 1, next, as heads of the Music and English departments, respectively.

RUTH KNOCKS TWO HOMERS AT CINCY

Cincinnati, July 26—Babe Ruth delighted a large crowd at Redland Field Monday by hitting two home runs in an exhibition game between the New York Americans and the Cincinnati Nationals. The Reds won the game 9 to 8.

With two out and the bases full in the fifth inning, Ruth drove the first ball pitched to him over the center field wall. The first time this feat has ever been accomplished. In the seventh, with one on base, Ruth hit into the right field bleachers on the fly, which established another record for the Cincinnati park.

A triple by Ronsch and Duncanson's double in the seventh gave Cincinnati two runs and the game. Ruth struck out in the ninth.

BOOZE SMUGGLERS REAPING FORTUNES

New York, July 26—Federal authorities along the Atlantic coast redoubled their vigilance over tramp ships today following disclosure of evidence indicating the existence of at least two gigantic international whisky smuggling rings, one having headquarters in this city and one in Atlantic City.

Aid of the Navy Department also was being sought in an effort to build up a rum-hunting fleet capable of coping with the mysterious ships and their allied fishing smacks which are alleged to have landed hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of contraband liquor at secluded points under cover of darkness.

According to LeRoy W. Ross, United States District Attorney of Brooklyn, foreign and domestic capital aggregating several million dollars is behind the whisky smuggling conspiracy.

Keenest watch was being kept by revenue boats off Montauk Point, toward which authorities were tipped, a large vessel was bound from the Bahama Islands with a cargo of 15,000 to 20,000 cases of choice Scotch and Irish whisky. The conspirators learned that word of the sailing had reached the federal officials, were reported trying frantically to get in touch with the whisky runner to direct her to another point less carefully watched.

A tramp steamer cruised saucily outside the three-mile limit of Atlantic City yesterday, according to reports received here, and taunted federal agents by breaking down your money and come and get it. The tramp slipped away a night fell, and it was thought she was heading for some desert point where fishing vessels could work unhampered at the task of lightening her cargo ashore. A three-masted schooner suspected of being a rum ship also was reported off Atlantic City.

Fishermen along the coast, according to Mr. Ross, are reaping a rich harvest running the forbidden cargoes ashore. They work almost entirely at night, he said, making landings at points known to be free from surveillance. Their compensation is said to be $15 for every case of whisky landed, and many of the fishermen are declared to have abandoned entirely their regular trips to the fishing banks in favor of the more lucrative smuggling. The smugglers are met on shore by automobile truckmen, who whisk the cargoes away to secret storehouses.

Efforts of federal agents to check whisky running along the coast have led so far to seizure of two vessels.

CATHOLICS EMERGE FROM THE CELLAR

Defeat Methodists In Hard-Fought Game Monday By Close Score of 10 to 8

Baptists	8	1	.888

Methodists	3	9	.250

(By E. T. Higgins)

The Catholics came out of last place Monday by defeating the Methodists on the Normal field to a tune of 10 to 8. The Catholics although out and outplayed in the field, managed to win. Charley Rogers pitched steady ball for the Catholics and added one more home run to his credit which gives him a lead of two circuit drives over Hembree, who is trailing Rogers with three four-baggers to his credit. At Oldham allowed two less hits than Rogers, but was not so fortunate to keep the hits scattered as his opponent. Oldham also hit well, driving a long triple to the right field in the eighth.

Long hitting featured the game—five triples and a home run being made. This is the most three base drives that have been recorded in a single Church league game so far this season. The closest to this is four triples that were made in a game between the Catholics and Baptists June 29th.

Joe Asbill played a stellar game at second for the victors, making two fine catches of line drives. The better of the two catches was the one off Covington's bat in the seventh. The crowd thought it was a hit but Asbill jumped high into the air and pulled the old apple down with one hand. He handled 13 of his 15 chances with ease.

Charley Rogers, besides pitching his team to victory, hit safely his four times up, making two singles, a triple and a homer. Powell also hit well for the Methodists getting three singles in as many trips to the plate.

The Catholics and Methodists are having as big a fight for the cellar as the First Christians and Baptists are having for the clouds.

No Sales Tax (By Associated Press)

Washington, July 26—An agreement among members of the House Ways and Means committee that in revision of the revenue laws no provision has been made for a sales tax, was announced today by chairman Fordney.

THREE-CENT POSTAGE TAX THREATENED

Washington, July 26—Plan for building a new tax law took more definite form Monday as preparations were completed for the actual beginning of revision of the revenue laws by the House Ways and Means Committee.

President Warren G. Harding heard details of what House leaders propose to do, from J. W. Fordney, chairman of the committee, during the day, and information leaked out indicating that the 3-cent postage stamp might be resorted to as a revenue producer.

Mr. Mellon was reported as being favorable to a flat tax on corporations, believing that such a tax would offset losses due to the contemplated repeal of the profits and some minor assessments.

Committee leaders declared they believed the corporation tax would take the form of a 15 per cent levy on incomes with the exemption of $2,000 now in effect, abolished. Representative Nicholas Longworth, republican, Ohio, who has a bill making such provisions, said the corporation tax would yield around $500,000,000 a year. Mr. Longworth's bill also would reduce the higher surtaxes on incomes and his plan in this respect was said to have the Secretary of Treasury's approval.

COURT SAYS SMALL MAY BE ARRESTED

(By Associated Press)

Springfield, Ill., July 26—Governor Small, despite his official position, is subject to arrest and prosecution for his acts as State Treasurer, Judge Smith in the Sangamon county circuit court ruled today. Under the decision the governor will be permitted to "voluntarily present himself before the court." The next move in the case will come from sheriff Mester, who, however, said no "attempt will be made to embarrass the chief executive." Judge Smith's opinion also said it is beyond the scope of the governor's power to call state troops to shield him from arrest.

Banff, Alberta, July 26—A searching party today continued scouring the country about Mt. Lebanon in an effort to locate Dr. W. E. Stone, president of Purdue University, of Lafayette, Indiana, and Mrs. Stone, missing since July 17. On that date they set out to inspect the surrounding country. They had food for four days. The only trace of them was the remains of a fire and toilet articles belonging to both.

Lexington, Ky., July 26—Dr. Stone is widely known in Kentucky. For years he supported the University of Kentucky. Members of the faculty said today that he frequently visited Lexington and other parts of the state.

TRYING TO CATCH BREATHITT KILLERS

Bloodhounds Being Are Used In Effort To Find 'Shiners Who Shot Officers

Lexington, Ky., July 26—A posse of deputy sheriffs, headed by Clay Watkins, brother of Deputy Sheriff Green Watkins, who was killed by alleged moonshiners on the Breathitt-Knott county boundary line Saturday night, accompanied by Capt. V. G. Mullikin, Lexington, and his bloodhounds, Sunday followed the trail from the scene of ambush six miles to the home of a man said to have been recognized by Andrew Allen, a posseman, who escaped uninjured in Saturday night's battle, according to Capt. Mullikin, who returned here this afternoon.

Posse searchers obtained information to the effect that six men, heavily armed, left this house before the posse and dogs reached it. Members of the posse were left to guard the house while other members returned to Jackson to organize a large force. The sheriff's posse returned to the scene today and took up the search for the men, all of whom are said to be well known. Feeling is high in Jackson and Quicksand, and reports indicate no quarter will be given the fugitives if the posse finds them and they offer resistance.

Henry Noble, another raider, was shot to death by the same party which fired on Watkins.

Samuel J. Watkins, Jackson federal prohibition agent who led a posse after moonshiners Saturday night, was in Louisville several weeks ago. Watkins made raids on several soft drink stands, including the spectacular one in the saloon of John Rodgers, 6th and Walnut streets. It was thru Watkins' work here that several soft drink stand owners were arrested and charged with selling liquor. Watkins was ordered to return to Jackson about two weeks ago.

WHO CAN AND WHO NOT VOTE IN PRIMARY

At the request of candidates and voters, we state briefly who can vote in the August Democratic primary.

No Republican can vote and no Democrat who did not support the whole ticket last November can vote. The same qualifications as general election prevail otherwise; one must be a resident of the state one year, county six months, and precinct sixty days, and be at least 21 years old at the time of voting.

There are women who are well known democrats, of democratic families, who expect to affiliate with the democratic party, but who failed to vote last fall—some for lack of means to get to the polls, absence from home, sickness and other valid reasons. All such known to be of democratic belief, are entitled to be voters in the primary.

There is an affidavit which any voter must sign stating that they are democrats and have the other legal qualifications as stated here before. Any officer or challenger has a right to compel any voter to sign up before voting if they doubt his qualification.

No mixed tickets voted last fall entitle a voter to participate in either a democratic or republican primary.

The law is very plain, short and simple. If you voted any ticket except straight democratic last fall, you are ineligible to vote in August. If you did not vote in November for any good reason and if you are a democrat, you are entitled to vote.

No one can vote by mail in the August primary. Absent voters vote by mail only in November elections.

There is a penalty for voting when not entitled to; people not entitled to vote must not vote in this primary.

Religious Statistics In Mountains

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., July 25.—The Disciples of Christ, or Christian church, now have 28,800 members in the Kentucky mountains, according to the Oneida Mountaineer, which bases its figures on the basis of the last report of the government religious census of 1910. This church is second to the Baptist denomination, which leads with 39,700, the paper says.

The 178 mountain counties in the Southern mountain region with a total population of 3,339,000, has a total religious membership of 972,800, the report says, of which 48 per cent are Baptists. The Methodists, with 31 per cent, the Presbyterians with six and the Disciples with five per cent, have the majority of the others.

Every Democrat Should Vote For Willis Kennedy

As the date of the Democratic Primary draws nigh, the voters of Madison county became more and more interested in the candidates who shall be voted on to fill county and state offices, when they think of the man who shall be their next Representative, the name of D. Willis Kennedy is at once suggested to their minds, for he is a thorough-going, capable and well qualified man to represent the people at the state capital, and in whom the utmost confidence can be placed.

In the history of every town, county and state, the man has been invariably suggested to the people as the "right man at the right time," and as this applies to matters political, possibly, more than in any other vocation, calling or profession, it would seem to be especially apropos in this instance.

To have a capable and efficient man as your Representative is a most important matter. In the selection of the candidate the voters cannot be too careful, or discriminating. He should be a man worthy of the office to which he aspires; a man honest, clean and vigorous, whose interests are your interests, and who would serve you to best of his ability at all times.

In a few words this sums up the qualifications of the man who is asking your vote and support at the polls on Saturday, August 6, for Representative in the State Legislature.

Mr. Kennedy was born and reared in Madison county, coming to Richmond about 25 years ago where he has since lived, excepting the time he spent in the cause of his country; first, the Mexican border trouble, and lastly the World War, where he saw service almost thru-out the entire hostilities. He was courageous when his country needed him, and you can depend on it that he will be equally as courageous in advocating measures in the legislative halls at Frankfort that affect Madison county.

He returned from overseas in January, 1919, and during the month of April, 1920, he embarked in the produce business, and has been engaged in it continuously since that time. He is, therefore, well known to the citizens of Madison county; as much so, in fact, as any man in Madison no doubt, as his daily transactions have brought him in touch with hundreds of farmers who reside in every section of the county, and no one can say aught against the character, integrity or straightforward business methods of Willis Kennedy. He knows the farmers' needs, possibly, better than they know their own needs for he has made a study of conditions throughout the country and is in position to represent them, as few men can.

His platform is in the interest of Madison county, and the voters who shall choose him as their Representative. He would assume his duties unhampered, and work unceasingly for the betterment of the county, protecting her interest at every turn. He has no pet schemes but his entire time would be given to the cause of the people who elected him, and it would be for them that he would work with all the vim and vigor of his young manhood to reduce taxes and make the state government more economical.

If the voters will turn out on the day of the primary and give Willis Kennedy a majority, in the primary and then elect him to the State Legislature, it is a safe prediction that no one will ever have occasion to regret his or her vote in his behalf.

A more worthy, conscientious and loyal representative could not be selected. He is ready and willing to serve the people of Madison if they want him. It would be for their interests that he would neglect his business and devote his time to the service.

A business man is needed in all law-making assemblages. In the person of Willis Kennedy the county will not only be represented by a successful business man, a christian gentleman, and a courageous soldier in the great war, but one who is conversant with the conditions that exist in Madison county, the farmers' needs and the necessity for reduction of taxes. Willis Kennedy will make a Representative that will restore that prestige in the legislature that old Madison enjoyed in other days.

MADISON TO SEND BIRDS TO BIG FAIR

Rhode Island Reds To Be Sent To State Fair On Standardization Plan

Approximately twenty Kentucky counties are planning to make displays in the poultry standardization exhibit which will be held at the Kentucky State Fair September 12 to 17, in the interests of the standardization campaign being conducted by the extension division of the College of Agriculture, Lexington. This announcement was made by A. S. Chapin, poultry field agent from the college, who will have charge of the exhibit. More than 500 birds from the four varieties being used in the standardization work are expected to be on display. Indications point to a 100 per cent increase in the size of the exhibit over the one held last year, when farmers from eight counties competed for individual and county prizes. Mr. Chapin said.

The exhibit is limited to farmers in counties organized on the standardization plan, according to announcement. Mr. Chapin expects it to be the largest amateur exhibit ever made at the State Fair.

Thirty-two birds, including three cocks, three hens, three cockerels, and three pullets will constitute a county exhibit. Representatives of the Barred Plymouth Rock, Rhode Island Red, White Wyandotte and White Plymouth Rock varieties will be displayed. It is probable that Jefferson county also will exhibit White Leghorns. Mr. Chapin said.

The list of prizes which has been posted for successful exhibitors include cash premiums, silver trophies, pure bred hatching eggs, baby chicks and representatives of the different breeds. These will be competed for by both the county and the individuals who have made entries in the display. Mr. Chapin announces. Prizes will be awarded of the best pens and best individuals from each of the varieties. A number of premiums have been offered by poultry breeders of the state.

Counties that are planning to enter the exhibit and the breed which they will display are:

Fulton, Calloway, Washington, Barren, Oldham, Warren, McCracken, Simpson and Shelby counties, White Plymouth Rocks. Todd, Henderson and Muhlenburg counties, White Wyandottes.

Lee, Mason, Madison, Rockcastle and Laurel counties, Rhode Island Reds.

Owen, Boone, and Pulaski counties, Barred Plymouth Rocks.

Loss Of Appetite

As a general rule there is nothing serious about a loss of appetite and if you skip a meal or only eat two meals a day for a few days you will have a relish for your meals when meal time comes. Bear in mind that at least five hours should always elapse between meals so as to give the food ample time to digest and the stomach a period of rest before the second meal is taken. Then if you eat no more than you crave and take a reasonable amount of outdoor exercise every day you will not need to worry about your appetite. When the loss of appetite is caused by constipation as is often the case, that should be corrected at once. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will do it. July
